TELLS WASHINGTON THAT MARTIAL LAW WILL BE NECESSARY

FIRST REPORTS WERE ENCOURAGING

is Satisfied That the Miners Will Not Obey the President's Proclamation—Bombing Squadron of Air Service is at Charleston
Ready for Service—Deputies are Routed

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 1.—At midnight General H. H. Bandholtz announced that he dispatched a telegram to the war department at Washington to send federal troops into West Virginia at once. In announcing his decision to recommend martial law General Bandholtz made the following statement:

"I am satisfied the miners will not obey the president's proclamation. A telegram has been sent to Washington requesting federal troops at once."

Washington, Sept. 1.—Preliminary reports having indicated a breaking up of the bands operating in the West Virginia coal fields, officials of the federal government tonight deferred decision on the question of intervention in the state pending a more complete and final report from Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, the war department's representative in the disturbed area.

The first reports from General Bandholtz received late in the day were said by Secretary Weeks to indicate a disposition by members of the armed bands to comply with President Harding's proclamation calling upon them to return to their homes.

"There is every indication that the men are going home," said the war secretary, in announcing the receipt of the reports, which, it was added were based on information gathered by General Bandholtz by staff officers.

War department officials were not prepared to say when the complete report of General Bandholtz on which President Harding and Secretary Weeks will base their decision might be expected. Belief was expressed in some quarters that the general would not be able to effect a complete survey of the situation and report before tomorrow and this feeling apparently was shared by Secretary Weeks, who, after receiving the first reports cancelled plans to remain at the war department during the evening awaiting final advices.

While awaiting the final report and the subsequent decision of the President and Mr. Weeks, the war department was prepared to undertake the task of restoring order in West Virginia. Troops increased by orders during the day to three regiments were prepared to move from their stations at Camps Sherman, Ohio, and Dix, N. J., at a moment's notice.

The eighty-eighth light bombing squadron of the air service, consisting of fifteen planes, was at Charleston ready for any duty that might be prescribed having reached the West Virginia capital during the day from Langley Field, Va.

Hesitation by the armed bands to disperse and return to their homes by noon today, the time fixed by the president in his proclamation officials said today did not automatically call for the dispatch of troops and the declaration of martial law. The proclamation, it was pointed out, ordered persons engaged in such unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before twelve o'clock noon of the first day of September, but did not order the troops of move at any given hour after the expiration of the time limit.

General Bandholtz was enabled by this arrangement to pursue his investigation and prepare the report without a pressure of time and incidentally the bands were allowed additional time in which to disband before troops were called to disperse them.

Secretary Weeks consistently declined during the day to comment on the plans of operation to be followed under General Bandholtz's leadership in the event troops were ordered and martial law declared.

"I don't want to say what will be done," he said, "but if we are forced to use troops, it will be a plenty."

WILL ALWAYS BE NECESSITY FOR ARMED FORCES

Harding Tells Views
To War College
Students

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—President Harding, speaking today at the opening of the fall term of the army war college, declared that "no matter what the best aspirations of the world lead us, there never may be a time without the necessity for armed forces."

The president in his brief address, however, pledged the two hundred officers in his audience that during his administration they would never be called upon to perform military service "they could not enter into with all their heart and soul as Americans."

Referring to the situation in the West Virginia coal fields, the president declared:

"We ought not have a conflict like that which is going on in West Virginia. It is due to lack of understanding."

Mr. Harding said there were "two relative essentials to the civilization to which we all aspire; one is a misunderstanding among men at home, and the other is an understanding between nations."

The president expressed belief that the time was coming when the "burdens of armament" could be diminished.

"I wish with all my heart," he added, "that there will be less need of armies and navies."

Declaring that through four thousand years of pagan history and two thousand years of Christian civilization, the world only lately had come to a civilized state of armed warfare, the president reiterated that he thought "perfectly futile to think there never may be armed conflicts."

"We of America, without unnecessary boasting," he continued, "have come nearer to civilized warfare than any nation."

The president said "the trouble with the world today is that there are too many theorists who know nothing of actualities."

Whoever, he added, brings practical experience into the play by theory will make a real contribution to progress.

The text of the president's address as issued by the White House follows:

"I think I will relieve my embarrassment by telling you a cabinet secret which came to my mind while the secretary of war was emphasizing his duty as a civil agent of the government. In the cabinet, where we are sometimes familiar, as all men like to be at times, the secretary of war is called 'Mars.' Frankly I should feel a continued embarrassment in this presence were it not for the fact that I am glad to come and express the interest, the endeavor, agreement, and the good will of one who is, by virtue of his office for a period commander-in-chief."

"I have to smile sometimes at the term, conscious as I am of my own inability to understand all the things for which the executive is responsible. This conviction and realization comes to me every day, but I have come to know and am satisfied to believe that the president, after all, is just the agency employed in focusing the judgments, the conviction and the knowledge of those in America whose minds and experience must of necessity direct the trend of government."

There would not be a man in America, even were he a superman, who could fittingly serve as president of the United States, if it were otherwise. I have come to feel a new confidence in myself because of the capable men I find everywhere about me who can take upon their shoulders a part of the great load that comes to any executive. I feel so concerning the secretary of war. I feel so concerning General Pershing and all men with whom I have come in contact and who are in authority."

The Many Theorists.
"There is little that I could say particularly appropriate to this occasion. I am from my own experience remind you that if the war college is the institution which brings the knowledge of

GOMPERS TALKS OF CONDITIONS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Says Trouble Will Not Be Cured By Use of Force

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The trouble in West Virginia will not be cured by "forcing men into submission while allowing continuance of the evils against which they have so desperately protested," Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor declared in a statement tonight.

"I join with all Americans," Mr. Gompers added, "in deprecating the violence in that state but it is worse than useless to deal with the surface manifestations while allowing the deep, underlying plutocratic criminality to continue uninterrupted and unchecked."

The basic facts, which he charged had not been fully and truthfully presented by the public press and the federal government, are described as follows:

"The mines of West Virginia constitute the last refuge of autocracy in the mining industry. In these mines an unrestrained, unlimited greed dominates absolutely. Absentee owners hold immense tracts of rich mining land, demanding only dividends."

"The appetite of this private greed is upheld by a private army of killers the like of which no longer exists in any other state. This private army is paid by the mine owners and naturally seek to justify its presence by making business for itself in the form of trouble. The Baldwin-Felts Detective Agency recruits the army, but the mine owners pay the bill. Deputy sheriffs, paid by mine owners, form another wing of the private army equally dangerous."

Have Not Abided By U. S. Award
"The present strike is a direct protest against the action of the nine owners of West Virginia in refusing to abide by the award of the United States coal commission. If the United States government at this time defends the mine owners and does not destroy the private armies of the mine owners the government is in the position of sustaining a defiance of an order issued by its own authority."

"The state government of West Virginia has broken down, not because the miners have protested against lawlessness, but because it has failed to stop the mine owners from enforcing law as a private business at the hands of privately paid and privately directed gunmen."

Mr. Gompers reviewed the incidents leading up to the present situation beginning with the wage award of the federal bituminous commission in March, 1920, and describing the "refusal of the coal operators of Mingo county to apply the award," which eventually, he related, ended in the miners "flocking into the union," and being discharged and "served with eviction notices."

"The United States government," he said in conclusion, "can do a great service by destroying government by gunmen, by restoring civil government unscrupulously by coal mine autocracy and by giving to the miners an opportunity to secure justice and to be free from persecution and enjoying their constitutional rights."

Will Not Accept
CENTRAL CONTROL

PARIS, Sept. 1.—The international commission for relief in Russia created by the supreme council to coordinate the relief work of all nations, has not been able to bring the countries together in a unified plan of action. When Walter R. Brown, European director of the American relief administration informed the commission that the American organization would not make itself subservient to any central body, hope for international cooperation was materially diminished.

Before adjourning this evening the commission approved the text of a telegram to Moscow asking permission to send a committee of inquiry to Russia. Pending the outcome of this, the commission recommends that all the governments proceed with their relief plans independently through their respective national Red Cross societies.

BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 1.—The body of an unidentified man about 25 years old was found hanging in a tree on the outskirts of this city this morning. The firm name "W. Wax" in his cap and initials "L. D." in his ring are the only clues to his identity.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Miss Catherine Bryant of Westward Ho, won the women's junior western championship title today by defeating Miss Josephine Morse of the South Shore Country club, in the final round at the Skokie links 8 and 6. Miss Morse did not win a single hole.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 1.—Mrs. G. F. Johnson, wife of an East Moline, Ill., physician is in a local hospital recovering from cuts about the face received near here yesterday when she was thrown from the rear seat of Dr. Johnson's automobile after Dr. Johnson was forced to the side of the road by a passing motorist had suddenly applied the brakes to check his skidding car. Her injuries are slight.

BELFAST, Sept. 1.—Soldiers were rushed to the Grove street section of Belfast this morning, when several shots were fired in that district. When the troops arrived, however, the gunmen had vanished. This was the first recurrence of the street fighting since yesterday, when six persons were killed and thirty were injured, many seriously.

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 1.—The Ford Motor Co. has in the neighborhood of fifty-four million dollars in cash in the bank, according to a report tendered the department of state here. The report, it was stated, by the secretary of state has not been officially accepted because of minor errors, and may be returned to the company for correction. The financial statement in the report will not be made public until it has been officially accepted by the department, it was announced.

SUPER DREADNAUGHT WAS LAUNCHED AT
CAMDEN THURSDAY

Most Powerful Fighting Machine Ever Built for Navy

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 1.—The Washington, one of the largest and most powerful superdreadnaughts ever built for the United States navy was launched today at the plant of the New York Shipbuilding company here.

As the great fighting machine slid down the ways toward the Delaware river, Little Miss Jean Summers of Walla Walla, broke a bottle containing waters from the principal rivers of her native state upon the bow of the ship. There was a hiss of steam and smoke and the 16,000 ton mass of steel glided toward the water for the friction was great and the oil and soap mixture used to grease the ways seemed as susceptible to the saltiness of the weather as the thousands who watched. The ship when completed will be about 33,000 tons.

Twenty-six congressmen were in the distinguished party of statesmen, naval officials and shipbuilders who watched the launching. Of these, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Lemaire Padgett, for many years a member of the house naval affairs committee and its former chairman Isaac V. McPherson of Missouri and J. W. Summers, father of the sponsor spoke at the luncheon which followed all of them urging that the United States navy should remain equal to any afloat.

MIXUP APPEARS
OVER CONTRACT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Navy department officials were at a loss today to explain the announcement made in Geneva, that the engineering firm of Sulzer of Winterthur, Switzerland, had received an order from the American government for $5,000,000 worth of diesel motors for submarines.

Contracts were entered into about seven months ago with the Bush-Sulzer company, St. Louis for engines for the three fleet submarines now under construction, naval officials said. It was their understanding, they said, that the engines the contract price for which was about $3,000,000 were built in the United States.

AVIATOR KILLED IN NOSE DIVE

Monmouth, Ill., Sept. 1.—While attempting a nose dive A. G. McMann, 32 years old of Davport, Iowa, a commercial flier, fell 6,000 feet to his death today. The accident was viewed by a large crowd at a baseball game for whom McMann was doing stunts when a wing of the machine crumpled up. McMann was an army aviator during the war.

ARGUMENT FOR CHANGE NOT TO COME UP MONDAY

Attorneys Agree to Postponement for Ten Days

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 1.—Governor Small's attorneys will not be prepared with affidavits to support their arguments for a change of venue for the governor when the Sangamon county circuit court convenes next week, it was learned tonight following a telephone conversation between Werner W. Schroeder, personal representative of the governor and State's Attorney Mortimer. Mr. Schroeder called from Chicago.

As a result of the Mortimer-Schroeder conversation an extension of time until September 16 has been agreed upon. No conference for the purpose of negotiating an agreement on some other county in which to try the governor on charges of embezzlement has been held. The prolonged absence of C. C. Leforge, one of the governor's counsel, is said to be one of the reasons for the delay which was sought by Mr. Schroeder. Leforge, it was said, has an important case at St. Paul, Minn., and will be unable to come to Springfield for the arguments next week.

Extension of time for Governor Small it was believed, will also mean that no arguments on the application of Vernon Curtis for a change of venue will be heard next week.

Formal Notices to be Filed
Formal notices of the applications of Governor Small and Curtis will probably be filed next Monday or Tuesday soon after court opens. There the case will rest for ten days while the governor's attorneys get in readiness.

State's Attorney Mortimer declared tonight that he is willing to grant any courtesy possible to Governor Small and would gladly agree to the extension asked by the governor's attorneys. Altho he will not oppose the change of venue, he became necessary to change dumping sites, we did it only as a temporary measure, fully intending to make some definite arrangement inside of the next six months by live stock consumption or if possible the installation of an incineration plant.

When the Small and Curtis arguments are made it is believed Judge Norman L. Jones of Carrollton will hear them.

AUTO RACER IS CRUSHED WHEN
CAR OVERTURNS

W. A. Coleman Meets Death
While Racing Against Time

(By The Associated Press)
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 1.—Racing against time in an effort to place his car among the first starters in the Pike's Peak annual hill climb on Labor Day, W. A. Coleman of Denver was crushed to death today when his car overturned near the eleven mile post on the Pike's Peak Highway, about one third of a mile from Glenview Inn.

The curve on which Coleman met his death is not banked, the downgrade on the curve being necessary to drain a long stretch of the highway. Other drivers on the course pronounced the curve a hazardous one.

It is believed Coleman went into the curve at about 45 to 50 miles an hour, the usual speed and that the absence of the bank roadway made it impossible for him to check the skid of his machine. It overturned and rolled over against a pile of boulders at the roadside. Coleman was pinned beneath the car.

Another driver following in Coleman's wake discovered the tragic end to the Denver man's speed trial.

He sped on to the Inn and called for help.

William "Red" Majors was slightly injured when his car was wrecked on the same roadway during the trials. Majors announced that his car could be repaired and that he would start in the hill climb on Monday.

RESOLUTION PASSED CONDEMNING ACTION OF JUDGE K. M. LANDIS

The American Bar Association Adopts it
After a Heated Argument—Carson Says it is Simply Dragging the Ermine in the Mire—J. Hamilton Lewis Defends Landis

(By The Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 1.—The action of Federal Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago, National Commissioner of Baseball, in accepting "private employment and private emolument while active on the federal bench was declared to meet with the unqualified condemnation" of the American Bar Association in a resolution adopted tonight.

The resolution was adopted after stormy debate in which former Senator James Hamilton Leewis counselled against hasty action and moved that the matter be referred to a committee for investigation. He declared that Judge Landis should be accorded a proper hearing before being condemned.

The resolution was drawn late today by the executive committee of the association and was presented by Hampton E. Carson of Philadelphia, former president of the organization.

The resolution read as follows:

"Resolved that the conduct of Kenesaw M. Landis in engaging in private employment and accepting private emolument while holding the position of federal judge and receiving a salary from the federal government meets with our unqualified condemnation as conduct unworthy of the office of judge, derogatory to the dignity of the bench and undermining public confidence in the independence of the judiciary."

"In upholding the honor of the profession of the law," Mr. Carson said, in presenting the resolution, "of what use is it to prescribe canons of ethics if we know that the man on whom the judicial ermine rests has soiled that ermine by yielding to the temptation of avarice and private gain."

"Here is a federal judge who receives $7,500 a year yielding to the solicitation of commercial interests sapping his judicial strength by taking $42,500 a year from baseball players."

"It is simply dragging the ermine in the mire. It may be that impeachment cannot reach him, but one thing cannot escape us, that is that from every judicial circuit and every bar in the country rises the withering scorn of protest against the man who would stain their honor."

"To ignore this thing would have been to leave this convention hanging our heads in shame at the execrable conduct of this judge."

Lewis Defends Landis.
Rising to defend Judge Landis as a man convicted by the resolution without trial, former Senator Lewis declared it did not become the dignity of the American Bar association to take hasty action.

"As a member of the bar in Chicago," having practiced many many times before the judge in question, I cannot permit myself to consent to a resolution proposed for such hasty action. "I know Judge Landis and I have differed with him both in public and in private, but I cannot permit an attack upon his character or his probity as a man who can be altered by money."

"While this man is on trial, it does not become this body to pass a resolution which concerns him without a hearing. You have read in the public press that he has accepted this baseball position. I have accepted his salary. It may be that these things are true, but whether true or not, we should not present to the world a resolution which violates fairness."

"I move you, sir, that the matter be referred to a committee which may serve due notice upon the alleged culprit and give him opportunities for reply. Let justice be done the Heavens will fail."

R. D. Robinson, of Galesburg, Ill., voiced his approval of the resolution by declaring that "if a man in Judge Landis' court had violated the ethics of the court, he would be sent to jail for 90 days without trial by jury."

Another member of the Chicago Bar, John M. Harlan, declared the American Bar association was on trial and counselled publication of the association's opinion on Judge Landis' position before condemning him.

"There is no practical doubt that Judge Landis is the national commissioner of baseball," Mr. Harlan said. "There may be some doubt about the salary he receives but the American Bar association owes to itself, if we have esprit de corps and pride in our profession, to tell the American public whether the association thinks it

A clergyman of the Christian church at the international convention gave figures to show that 34 per cent of the clergymen of the United States receive in salary much less than do the unskilled steel workers. This calls to mind that it has often been stated that it was the interchurch movement report on the steel industry, criticizing working conditions and wages, that helped very largely in putting an end to the movement.

Under the terms of a bill favorably reported from the ways and means committee of the house, cigars and cigarettes seized by the government for non-payment of the revenue tax would not be destroyed as at present when they do not reach the amount of the tax due, but would be turned over to hospitals in which disabled veterans are quartered. That is certainly a sane provision.

"Give America the benefit of the doubt" is a pretty good rule to follow in tariff legislation, as in other lawmaking. In some cases there may be doubt as to the need of a protective tariff on certain commodities, or the extent of the tax, if needed. But one thing is certain—no great harm to America can come by fixing an import tax a little too high, while much harm may come from fixing it too low. You do not destroy an American industry by taxing the foreign importer too much; you may destroy an industry by letting the cheap foreign product in at a rate with which the American producer cannot compete.

If you read the Chicago Tribune article by the special correspondent sent thru central Illinois to note farm conditions, you read the statement that Morgan county land values were not inflated last year in the way that was true in some parts of Illinois and in Iowa.

While land values did increase materially in this county, the peak points which prevailed elsewhere were not reached. That is a matter of good fortune now, for land values are not compelled to take the toboggan slide that would otherwise be true. Possibly values are not quite up to the highest point, but the change downward is comparatively slight.

Some people believe that if they were holding down the president's chair that they would immediately take steps to end unemployment, would grant bonuses to ex-service men, reduce taxes and take other action which would be extremely popular.

These same people fail to remember that it is not within the power of the president to do these things. The actions of the president and of congress in the effort to bring to pass needed conditions are regulated very largely by certain economic laws. The beneficial influences must be the natural result of certain lines of action and cannot come about in an hour or a month. Time is the big requirement. Too often people are impatient and expect too much of their leaders.

SOME GOVERNMENT REAL ESTATE

In going over an inventory of all property owned by the U. S. Navy Department, which was ordered prepared by the new administration, it was discovered that Uncle Sam owns some "rare old" real estate. Probably the most valuable is 1,100 acres of white oak timber near Blythe's Island, Georgia, which was purchased before the Civil War at a time when navies were built of wood. The battle of the Monitor and Merrimac sounded the knell of the wooden fighting ship and with it passed the value of the government's oak forest—insofar as its use for building fighting ships was concerned. Its value today is purely a commercial one, which is not small.

Another piece of real estate which probably everybody connected with the Navy Department—except the caretaker and the paymaster—was ignorant of is a strip of land at Sackett's Harbor, New York. It was purchased in 1814, some say for navy yard purposes. The navy hasn't used it for at least a generation although it has paid a caretaker to watch over it. Still another piece of property discovered by the inventory is 141 acres of sand—just sand—at Dry Tortugas, purchased in 1845, probably for a naval station.

Other pieces of obsolete property have been discovered by the inventory and they will be disposed of and the money turned into the public treasury. Secretary Denby and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt expect to realize a tidy sum from their "housecleaning," cut down their operating expenses and get the Navy Department so "shipshape" that nothing connected with it will be useless and "in the way."

TWO RUNAWAYS
RECORDED THURSDAY
A horse belonging to Clarence Meyers, 917 North Main street, ran away yesterday afternoon as it was being hitched to a buggy by Mrs. Meyers. The horse became frightened and ran out of the barn without any bridle and ran for a considerable distance dragging the buggy with it. The buggy was overturned and badly smashed but Mrs. Meyers escaped without injury.

Two horses hitched to a wagon became frightened recently and in the mad course of their flight, ran amuck a telephone pole and brought it to earth with the result that several homes on Michigan avenue were without phone service. The owner of the offending team was not in the wagon when the runaway occurred and the horses escaped injury.

Read These ABC Rules About Batteries

Adjustment and oiling make your bearings last longer—proper inflation and careful driving make your tires last longer—cleaning makes your spark plugs serve longer and better. It is worth remembering that there are rules just as simple for making your battery last longer and serve more faithfully.

Here are three rules in A B C form:

- 1—Put in water regularly and keep up the charge.
- 2—Come in every two weeks for battery service.
- 3—And when your present battery wears out, buy a Willard Threaded Rubber Battery—the only battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation between the plates.

There is only one battery good enough for us to back by our unqualified recommendation—that's the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery. Come in—and we'll show you some records it has made right here.

right for a judge to receive a salary for service off the bench.

Not Only Judge of Ability.
Judge Landis is not the only judge with ability. Many judges, pressed by the high cost of living and with meagre salaries, would be glad to accept outside employment. If the association thinks it is all right, they would be glad to know about it.

"In justice to these others, let us announce whether it is proper or not."
Stormy debate ensued, interrupted frequently by outbursts of applause as speakers in all parts of the convention hall arose to support and denounce the resolution.

United States Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, chairman of the meeting, finally proposed the motion of Mr. Lewis to refer the resolution to a committee. The motion was lost. Without further delay the original resolution as drawn by the executive committee was passed by vive voce vote.

A motion that a certified copy of the resolution be sent to Vice President Coolidge for presentation to the senate and another copy to the speaker of the house of representatives was made by William A. Ketcham, former attorney general of Indiana. The motion was passed without debate.

The administration of federal government in the United States was attacked in an address before the association by former Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado, who declared this country had turned from "a representative republic to a continental democracy."

Landis Refuses Comment.
CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Federal Judge Landis declined tonight to comment on the action of the American Bar association in adopting a resolution condemning his action in accepting emolument for private work as baseball arbitrator.

"I have absolutely nothing to say," he said.

Judge Landis was appointed commissioner of baseball on January 12, 1921, at an annual salary of $42,500. The contract was to extend for seven years. He was originally offered $50,000 a year but asked that the lesser sum be given him.

For years Judge Landis has been one of the best known judges of the country. He has attracted wide attention in many famous cases, probably the best known being the $29,400,000 fine he assessed against the Standard Oil company of Indiana on a charge of rebating.

This decision was later reversed.

WAGONMAKERS GO ON STRIKE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 1.—Approximately 250 wagonmakers and blacksmiths, employed in forty shops, went on strike today. They have been receiving $1 to $1.10 an hour. A reduction amounting to 15 per cent was proposed by employers.

experience into a blend with theory, it is one great institution of practical value. The trouble with the world today is that too many theorists know nothing about actualities and have learned nothing from experience and whoever in this life brings the wisdom of experience into a blend with the teachings of theory, makes a contribution to real progress. I do not know what ought to be said about your profession for the future, but men of the army, no matter where the best aspirations of the world may lead us, no matter what tremendous and gratifying progress is made there may never be a time without the necessity for armed forces in every government. I believe with all my heart we are coming to a time when we are going to diminish the burdens of armament.

"I think there will be less of armies and less of navies. I wish with all my heart that there never can come a time when there is not a requisite agency for the maintenance of law and authority and for national defense. It is perfectly futile to think there may never be a conflict when you stop to consider that in two thousand years of Christian civilization and four thousand more of pagan civilization, concerning which we are informed we have only lately come to a real civilized state of warfare and that doesn't apply quite to all the nations of the world.

"It has been a slow proceeding and I believe we of America, without unseemingly boasting, can say we have come the nearest to unselfish, conscientious warfare of any people in the world, and I pledge you now you will never be called to service during the present administration for any war that you could not enter with all your heart and souls as American citizens.

Understanding Among Men.

"Now that may seem a strange statement to make, but I want you officers of the army to precede your activities in the defense of our national life with that insistent understanding among peoples that we must put further aside any possible occasion for conflict. I am a firm believer that there are two essentials to the civilization to which we all subscribe. One is the understanding among men at home. We ought to have no conflict like that which is distressing us in West Virginia at this hour. That is lack of understanding. There should never be a conflict between civilized nations and there never will be if there are men in authority who will insist on a full understanding first. I do not know how you will approve, but I want you, for the time being, to be the advisers of an administration that seeks for America fullness of understanding with the peoples of the world and if we have that, there never will come a time when we will be drawn into conflict that all America cannot answer with the fullness of heart and the depth of soul.

"Gentlemen, I wish you well in the year of study before you, and I know I can say with all my heart that with this aid of knowledge of the aspirations which will come to this association and study, you will contribute in proportion to the intelligence, the power and the glory of the army, which is one branch of American reliance for national defense."

TAKES POSITION WITH NASON COAL COMPANY

Donald Butler, who has been employed in the office of his uncle, J. W. and Cornelius Harrison, since the war time, has resigned the position to enter the employ of the Nason Coal Co. Mr. Butler succeeds F. R. Sullivan, who now goes to Chicago to serve as assistant sales manager.

Mr. Sullivan has been making the Illinois territory for the past two years and is held in very high regard by retail coal men. Mr. Butler will visit towns and cities in central and southern Illinois and a part of Iowa. He is an estimable young man and will no doubt prove his worth to the Nason company.

Mr. Sperry comes to Jacksonville from Minneapolis. He and Mrs. Sperry have land holdings in Greene county and Mr. Sperry will engage in business here as well. The family will make a desirable addition to the citizenship of Jacksonville.

FOREST FIRES ARE RAGING IN WESTERN COUNTRY

Thousands of Acres of Timber Destroyed—One Dead

MISSOULA, Mont., Sept. 1.—

One man has been killed and thousands of timber land have been burned over in Montana and Northern Idaho according to reports today to the federal forest service. Dry hot winds are blowing in most of the national parks of the district and the situation was declared to be growing worse.

The dead man is John Amacher, a rancher in Stevens county, Washington, whose body was found where the flames overtook him. The Kotenai forest in Montana, the Pend Oreille and Nez Perce Forest in Idaho reported the biggest fires raging. In the three forests the fires have burned over 2,100 acres.

Smaller fires were reported in the cabinet and Flathead forests in Montana.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS HELD SESSION

A meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce held last night, with President R. Y. Rowe presiding. Several matters of routine business were presented by Secy. Welch. Then Mr. Welch made a brief report of his stay at Madison, Wis., in the summer school conducted by the American City Bureau. The question of a rest room was discussed at some length and the committee on committees was asked to appoint a committee to co-operate with other organizations in investigating as to the best plan for the establishment of a rest room. There is a demand for a rest room both because of visitors from the country and because of the numerous tourists.

A communication was read asking the Chamber of Commerce to take the initiative in a movement to prevent further heavy hauling on the asphalt or tarvia pavement of Jacksonville. The petitioners especially had in mind the heavy wagons used in coal hauling. This subject was but one of several discussed in detail.

FORMER RESIDENT VISITING HERE

A few days ago a stranger waded into Fred DeFrates' barber shop on the north side and at once proceeded to make himself very much at home. He talked to Fred about the happenings of years gone by and seemed wonderfully familiar with Mr. DeFrates and Jacksonville in general. For a day or two he kept on in this manner, refusing to tell his name. Mr. DeFrates knew there was something familiar about him but that was all, until the stranger said his name was Jesse Pike, and then all was plain. They had been schoolmates in childhood and were very firm friends, but had not met for many years, and both were pleased at the meeting.

WHITE HALL MAN HAS CAR STOLEN

Charles Hedgepath of White Hall is the second man in the last few days to have a Ford stolen from the public square. The word has been that the car was in no very good condition and Mr. Hedgepath does not understand why they picked his car from all the rest. To further complicate matters, he had just purchased a new license for it and doesn't remember the number. The Ford was a 1917 model.

Word has been received by the police that a Packard twin six was stolen in Palmyra. The car was practically new and its license number was 153,777.

ALTAR SOCIETY OF ALEXANDER MEET

The regular meeting of the Altar Society of the Church of the Visitation at Alexander was held Thursday afternoon in the church basement. There was a good attendance and an interesting program was carried out. Two interesting papers were presented one by Miss Edna Ryan and one by Miss Mary Hohman.

The hostesses were Mrs. Edward Hermes, Mrs. John Bergschneider, Mrs. Joseph Zeller, Miss Nettie Gray and Miss Margaret Herzschneider. During the social hour which followed the program delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Howard Maines, Mrs. John Bland and little grandson, and Miss Grace Hall were among the Franklin people in this city Thursday.

RIGGSVILLE MEN HURT IN ACCIDENT

Red Stone, John S. Feimley and Ray W. Harvey Receive Painful Injuries When Car Turns Turtle—F. H. Farrand, K. F. Skinner and J. E. Schnur Slightly Hurt.

Fred Stone, John S. Feimley and Ray W. Harvey of Griggsville are patients at Passavant hospital suffering from painful injuries received late Thursday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding turned turtle at the southwest corner of Diamond Grove cemetery.

F. H. Farrand, K. F. Skinner and J. E. Schnur who were also occupants of the car escaped with only slight injuries and were able to return to their homes in Griggsville Thursday evening. Stone and Harvey suffered fractures of the left collar bone. Mr. Stone also had injuries of the left chest and head. Mr. Harvey was bruised about the body and Mr. Feimley who was driving the car suffered a bad injury to the right hand.

The injuries of Farrand, Skinner and Schnur were mainly bruises and scratches about the body and were only of a minor character.

The men, who are prominent in Griggsville business circles, were enroute to Springfield to attend a Shriner's meeting and were riding in a Hudson Super-six, owned and driven by Mr. Feimley. When near Diamond Grove the car suddenly skidded presumably from the dust which is very heavy at the corner point and overturned twice.

Word was immediately sent to Jacksonville for help and a telephone call was also sent to Jacksonville state hospital. Dr. E. L. Hill, managing officer of the institution and Dr. Abbott of the hospital staff rushed to the scene of the accident and gave first aid.

When the ambulances arrived the injured were taken to Passavant hospital where their injuries were attended by Dr. F. A. Norris and Dr. Edward Bowe.

John S. Feimley, who is a brother of David Feimley, the well known educator of Bloomington, and Mr. Farrand are bankers. Fred Stone and K. F. Skinner are merchants; J. E. Schnur is agent for the Standard Oil company, and Ray W. Harvey is a farmer.

The car in which they were riding was badly damaged and was hauled to a local garage.

Miscellaneous Rush

A miscellaneous rush was given Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Funk, residing west of town. The affair was planned by the Worth While Girls and was attended by about twenty young people. The newlyweds received a number of very useful gifts. Games were played on the lawn and a very pleasant time spent by all. Watermelon was served by the hostess during the evening.

Mrs. Susan Goacher was very pleasantly surprised Thursday by about twenty-six of her relatives and friends who went to her home taking with them well filled baskets of good things to eat. The affair was planned by Mrs. Goacher's granddaughter, Miss Evelyn Wallace, and was in honor of Mrs. Goacher's birthday and also somewhat as a farewell party as the Goacher home is soon to be changed to Roodhouse. At noon a bountiful dinner was served, the

WELL KNOWN RED MAN DIES IN BLOOMINGTON

George M. Adams Prominent in Order for Many Years—Was Well Known to Many Local Members of the Order.

The following from the Bloomington Pantagraph will be of interest to members of the Red Men in Jacksonville. Mr. Adams attended both sessions of the Great Council held here and was well known to local members of the order.

George M. Adams, aged 62 years, died at his home on North Main street at 1:50 o'clock, yesterday morning as a result of an illness with cancer and tumor. He submitted to an operation at the Menonite hospital May 23, and since then failed rapidly.

Mr. Adams was the eldest son of Matthew and Matilda Adams, and was born on a farm near Lexington, Jan. 1, 1859. His early experience on the farm was limited as he left when he was 12 years old and went to Saybrook, where he attended the public schools, later attending the State Normal University. Early in life he became interested in publication work and while a resident of Saybrook divided his time between two teaching schools at Four Corners and the Bush Colliery district and the editing of the Saybrook Gazette and the Arrow-smith News. In 1882 he moved to Bloomington and accepted a position with the Daily Bulletin as telegraph editor which position he held until he took charge of the Odd Fellows' Herald. After several years he sold his paper to other interests and in 1900 he started a job printing plant and in 1902 founded the Illinois Red Man of which he remained editor until his death.

Active in Fraternal Bodies.

Mr. Adams became a member of several fraternal organizations and was very active in some of them. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, a Modern Woodman, a K. of P., a Royal Neighbor, a member of the Typographical Union, a Red Man and the degree of Pocahontas.

His career as a Red Man was the more prominent having joined as a member of the Tonawanda Tribe, No. 48, of Bloomington in the year 1885. He became a member of the state body in 1886 and was elected Great Keeper of Wampum, which position he resigned upon moving to Oklahoma. A year later he moved back to Bloomington and took up his work for Redmanship and in 1919 he was elected G. J. S. G. C. and on Oct. 4 he would have become Great Sachem.

On Sept. 14, 1882, he was united in marriage to Miss Jennie McKnight, to which union were born three sons, one of whom died in infancy; Fred H., of New York City, and Frank, of Cincinnati, Ohio, survive. Two brothers and one sister also survive, D. E. Adams, St. Louis, Dawson Adams, Decatur, and Mrs. George Robinson, of Springfield. Besides his immediate friends there are thousands of Red Men who mourn the death of their incoming Great Sachem.

Popular Among Red Men.

Words of praise of his work in the Red Men lodge come from all parts of the state, especially since the Pow Wow which was held at Starved Rock Aug. 20. The meeting there was a dream fathered by Mr. Adams and became a reality and a success through his efforts. The Junior Guards, a branch of the meeting and it was made possible by Mr. Adams for them to be there. It is said by those who were in close touch with his work, that it seemed at last that the success of the Starved Rock meeting was his last ambition, and a rapid decline followed, when its success was assured.

The funeral ceremony will be given by the degree of Pocahontas at Beck's chapel on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Services to be held from the M. E. church at Saybrook by the associated great chief of Illinois Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Tonawanda Tribe, No. 48, of which he was a member, will conduct services at the grave at the Saybrook cemetery.

NO CAR YET.

Mr. Dewees still has no trace of his Ford car so unceremoniously stolen from the square Tuesday evening. He says there was about eight gallons of gasoline in the tank, so if the thieves wanted a long ride they had the supplies in the car.

The will of Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson Rolando was filed in the office of County Clerk G. L. Riggs Thursday. Mrs. Rolando died in California and the will certified here for record. NEW FACULTY MEMBERS AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE President Barker Announces New Heads of Departments of Physical Education and Assistant in Chemistry.

According to an announcement made at the college office yesterday the faculty personnel of the Woman's college is complete for the coming school year. Miss Nellie E. Boyd has been named as director of physical education to succeed Miss Edith Lambert. Miss Boyd came highly recommended. She is a graduate of the College of Speech-Acts in Denver, and also a graduate of the Denver Play Ground and Recreational Institute. She later graduated from the Chicago Normal School of Physical Education and was subsequently an instructor in the organized play ground work in Loveland, Colorado. During the past year Miss Boyd was the director of physical education in Hollins College, at Hollins, Virginia.

The Woman's College is training young women for instructors' work in physical education and Miss Boyd's unusual training and experience in physical and recreational work will be a great addition to the efficiency of the physical culture department.

Miss Minnie Erley of Greenwood, New York, has been engaged as assistant in chemistry and as head instructor of physics. She is a graduate of the scientific course at Alfred University in New York, and did post-graduate work at Cornell University in Ithaca. For the past two years Miss Erley has had charge of physics and chemistry in the high school at Bartlesville, Oklahoma. In this school she gave special attention to the teaching of the physical sciences to girls and is thus well fitted for the work at the Woman's College. Miss Erley is a woman of pleasing personality and will no doubt be a valuable addition to the faculty. She fills the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Ruth Merling.

MISSSES HAMMOND GO TO NEW POSITIONS

Misses Laura and Eva Hammond departed yesterday for their future scene of labor in Springfield, Mass. Miss Laura will have work similar to that in which she was such an eminent success here, open air school. They were accompanied by their aunt, Mrs. Roberts, who will visit friends for a time before joining the young ladies in Springfield. They will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends in the city, to whom they take with them the best wishes of all who know them.

AURELIUS VOSSELER HOME ON FURLOUGH

Aurelius Vosseler, who is a student at Annapolis Naval Academy, has recently returned from a three months' cruise and is enjoying a brief vacation here in the city.

Vosseler is in his second year at the naval academy and thoroughly enjoys the training. A number of the cadets were taken on a three months' cruise to various European ports and Cuba. The squadron consisted of five battle-ships, the Connecticut, flag ship; the South Carolina, the Michigan, the Minnesota and the Kansas, and left Annapolis harbor on June 4th. They first went to Christiana, Norway, and thence down the coast, touching many of the sea ports, including Lisbon, Portugal, and Gibraltar. They also visited the Azores and then Cuba.

When one day out of the naval base in Cuba, Guan Panamo, the squadron received a radio concerning a mutiny on one of the fruit line steamers plying between Cuba and the United States. The steamer was soon picked up and some marines sent aboard. The captain of the steamer had been forced to shoot two of the mutineers. The ships reached home August 28th.

TRAVEL IN COMFORT.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Campbell, of Akron, Ohio, were in the city yesterday in their traveling home on their way to some point in Missouri. Their traveling outfit was rather unusual, as it consisted of a regular house built on to the chassis of some large type of car. The interior was completely fitted up for sleeping, cooking and general living quarters.

Mr. Campbell stated that the weather bothered them not at all. When weather conditions made travel impossible, they merely stopped, enjoyed the wet landscape, or passed the time reading, as their traveling home included a library.

This is not the first trip that they have made and hope it will not be the last. They spent last evening at the camping grounds in Nichols park, and remarked on the kind hospitality shown by the city.

MAHE IS CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY

The Old Gray Mare, belonging to Elzie Harmon of Concord, has been the source of no end of trouble to both the owner and to the people of Concord. The horse is said to have wandered into other residences gardens, blocked the highway and generally been a nuisance to the neighborhood. A charge of allowing livestock to run loose was sworn against Harmon and he decided to fight it. The case was lost in court and cost him something over fifty dollars.

Since then the case has been appealed to the circuit court and it is evident that Harmon expects to make it a fight to a finish. It is barely possible that the cost of the court proceedings is going to be more than the horse is worth.

NORTHMINSTER CHURCH IN ANNUAL PICNIC

Members and Friends Enjoyed All Day Program at Nichols Park.

The Northminster church picnic at Nichols park Thursday was largely attended and a very successful event. The members of the church and congregation gathered at the park before the noon hour and spent the remainder of the day there. A fine basket dinner was served at noon and in the afternoon ice cream, watermelon and other refreshments were available.

There was a brief formal program with address by Dr. W. E. Spoons and E. M. Vasconcellos. At the close of the address by Mr. Vasconcellos he announced the transfer of $124.92 to the treasury of Northminster church, made possible by a fund belonging originally to the organization of Portuguese exiles. Since that organization is not now in existence E. M. Vasconcellos as president and A. P. Vasconcellos as secretary of the organization, after consultation with others, decided to transfer the money on hand to Northminster church, since it is the only church organization which represents the Portuguese people.

WINTER WHEAT YIELD
EXCEEDS THAT OF 1920

Average Estimated at 16 Bushels Per Acre—Total Yield Estimated at Over 38,000,000 Bushels.

Springfield, Ill. — By The Associated Press.—The yield of winter wheat in Illinois, while disappearing is more than last year's, according to a report by S. D. Fessenden, U. S. agricultural statistician here.

The average yield estimated at 16 bushels an acre, which gives a crop of 38,000,000 bushels, compared with 35,720,000 bushels produced last year and 42,485,000 bushels, the average of the five years 1915-19.

The much good wheat has been harvested the quality of the grain averages only fair, considerable light weight shriveled grain appearing in the outrun of the thrashers. The early freezes of March and April are now supposed to have caused injury, unsuspected at the time, and the hot, dry weather following also had its effect in reducing the yield.

For the United States the average yield per acre of winter wheat is estimated at 14 bu, making a total crop of 54,879 bushels, compared with 57,762,000 bushels produced last year.

The stand of spring wheat and oats was thin, straw short and heads small. Many fields of both these crops were not harvested. The grain harvested is generally very light weight and the quality runs low. The yields of barley, the running small, are better than those of the other small grains and the quality of the crop is about fair.

crops of oats and barley, the stocks of the 1920 crops which remained on the farms on August 1 were unusually large.

The condition of spring wheat in Illinois is estimated at 64 per cent normal, indicating a crop of 3,650,000 bushels, as compared with 4,950,000 bushels in 1920 and 6,817,000 bushels the average five years' production. For the United States the condition is estimated at 66.6 per cent normal which forecasts a crop of 212,460,000 bushels.

For Illinois the condition of oats is estimated at 63 per cent normal, or a crop of about 122,947,000, compared with 161,950,000 bushels in 1920 and a five year average of 186,950,000 bushels.

The condition of the crop for the United States is estimated at 64.5 per cent normal, forecasting a crop of about 1,137,202,000 bushels. About 10.5 per cent of last year's crop or 1,099,000 bushels remained on the farms of Illinois on Aug. 1.

Illinois yield of barley, though small, is better than the yield of other small grains and the quality of the crop is fair. The condition of this crop is estimated at 77 per cent normal, forecasting a crop of 5,030,000 bushels, as compared with 6,080,000 bushels in 1920 and 4,606,000, the average five year production. In the United States the condition is estimated at 71.4 per cent, indicating a crop of 1,051,100 bushels. Seven per cent of last year's crop or 426,000 bushels remained on the farms of Illinois on Aug. 1.

Rye suffered considerably from the climatic conditions. The average yield of 17 bushels per acre however, is fully up to the ten year average and the quality of the grain is very good. The total production is estimated at 3,604,000 bushels as compared with 3,276,000 bushels in 1920 and an average production of 2,484,500 for five years. In the United States the average yield is estimated at 14.2 bushels an acre or a total production of 64,300,000. It is estimated that 4,000 acres have been sown to buckwheat in Illinois, a decrease of 10 per cent from last year.

The production of hay also will be small this year. Clover was badly killed and, together with the grasses, suffered later from the prevailing hot weather and lack of moisture. Clover for hay has made an average yield of 1.15 tons per acre.

The condition of white potatoes on August 1 was very low and the crop will be smaller than for many years. Excessive heat, lack of sufficient moisture and insect damage were the principal causes of the failure of this crop.

The condition of all tree fruits on Aug. 1 was very low. A crop of 123,000 bushels of peaches and 93,000 bushels of pears are expected.

The apple crop in the state is estimated at 20 per cent normal, forecasting a crop of 2,415,000 bushels as compared with 6,175,000 bushels in 1920. The probable crop in the United States is 109,453,000 bushels compared with 244,022,000 bushels last year.

Grapes will make a fair crop only. The production of blackberries and raspberries has been rather small.

Of all fruits the watermelons and cantaloupes alone exceed the ten year average condition on Aug. 1 and are making good crops of generally excellent quality.

DOG ACTORS SHOW
ON CHICAGO BEACHES

Chicago.—(By A. P. Mail.—) Volunteer dog actors which frequent Chicago bathing beaches during the summer have been banned by police at one north side beach because crowds they collect along fashionable Lake Shore Drive obstruct traffic.

A half dozen dogs spend most of their time during the summer months at the beach, ready to dive, chase sticks and catch balls thrown by anyone who will stop to play with them.

Chief of the canine entertainers is Dixie, a pedigreed Airedale with the temperament of a prima donna, his own set of stage or rather beach properties and a list of tricks which cause scores to line the shore walk anytime he consents to perform, which is usually from morning until late in the evening.

Dixie likes to attract attention, and he has his own method of collecting a crowd. He brings with him to the beach two sticks each about a foot long, and a cork ball the size of a baseball. Selecting a prospective assistant for his act, Dixie offers either the sticks or the ball to be thrown into the lake.

Retrieving the prize, the Airedale ignores his friend and stops a new passerby, repeating the process until a large crowd is collected. He rarely offers sticks or ball to the same person twice in succession, depending on his impartiality to keep the greatest number of people interested.

The dog has perfected his act until he is able to catch a ball thrown to him from a distance of fifty feet or more and to snap fly balls without letting them touch the ground.

We'll admit that during the hot weeks just passed some things did look a bit dubious but that's all over now. It's going to take a lot more than "talk" to stampede us into the belief that "everything is all wrong." It isn't. Everything is working out all right, and we'll have good times plenty if everybody will just get his shoulder to the wheel and push, and talk and act 'em. White Hall, Aug. 31.—A meeting of the township board was held Tuesday in the office of Supervisor Schier, and it was found that the only course to follow in naming a successor as justice of the peace to succeed the late Francis Fowler is by an election, and that the call for this election is entirely in the hands of the town clerk, Frank Greer. Mr. Greer states that he will have the call ready in a day or two for an election to be held in twenty days and that everybody will then have the opportunity to vote for E. L. Wendell.

PRODUCTION OF BROOM CORN FALLING OFF

Charleston, Ill.—(By A. P. Mail.)—Production of broom corn in Coles county, which has held the record in Illinois for several years, is falling off, although it still has a large enough yield this year to assure its retention of its rank as Coles county farm adviser.

"The acreage in broom corn has dropped from 6,539 in 1920 to 5,680 in 1921," Mr. Thomas said. "We attribute this largely to the low price of broom corn the past season together with the fact that last year's crop was grown and harvested with high priced labor."

"There seems to be a gradual dropping off of growers of broom corn," Mr. Thomas said, "although on the average the value of the crop compares favorably with Indian corn."

"The chief difficulty in growing broom corn aside from the problem of marketing is the large amount of extra labor necessary in harvesting the crop," Mr. Thomas added.

When you purchase a To-Ro 6-12-I. H. C. 8-16 Titan 10-20 you obtain more value for Less Dollars than is possible in any other make.

THE NEW NATIONAL BUDGET SYSTEM

Congressman Guy L. Shaw Writes Interesting Series of Articles On Important Theme.

(Section Two)

The budget system as outlined in the bill introduced by Representative Good and which after so long a time has finally become a law, is briefly stated as follows: First: It creates a bureau of the budget.

A. This bureau is responsible to the president.

B. All departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, offices, or other establishments of the government except the legislative branch and the supreme court, shall furnish annually to the president estimate of cost of their maintenance for the succeeding year.

C. The bureau of the budget shall assist the president in working out a budget for the executive branch of the government.

D. The secretary of the treasury shall submit to the president his estimate of public revenues for the coming year and the condition of the treasury.

Second: The president shall transmit to congress on the first day of each regular session, a document which shall contain balanced statements of the revenues and expenditures of the government for the preceding fiscal year and of the resources and liabilities of the treasury at the close of the year; his estimate of the revenues and expenditure needs of the government for the current fiscal year and how, in his opinion, these needs should be met.

Third: The president shall submit an alternative budget, which would set forth the vital needs of the departments separate from the contemplated expenditure, in order that the expense might be curtailed if need arose.

Fourth: No estimate or request for appropriations may be made to the congress except thru the president unless at the request of either house of congress.

Fifth: Special additional estimate may be made.

A. To meet conditions under new laws.

B. To supplement prior estimates.

Sixth: An accounting department is created.

A. Independent of executive department.

B. Under control and direction of the comptroller general of the United States.

C. Comptroller appointed by president confirmed by senate.

D. Services for good behavior.

E. Auditing department takes place of six auditing offices under present laws, which are to be abolished.

F. Duties of accounting department defined. The budget system we have adopted is executive. The president is the only officer who is superior to the heads of the departments. He is the only officer who is interested in the government as a whole, rather than one particular branch. The responsibility for the work program for the national funds should rest with the president. Congress should have his opinion and sanction to all matters pertaining to the expenditure of public money. This budgetary system will substitute team work instead of the unorganized work of each separate department. The house still retains its sole right to appropriate money and to enact the laws governing revenue. In short all fiscal legislation originates in the house of representatives. It is the fundamental principle of the new system.

It is easily probable that there was no position for which the president needed just the right man more than for the director of the budget. Of course the president himself is really the head, but he delegates all his powers to the one whom he shall choose as director.

General Chas. E. Dawes to whom the president intrusted this new directorship is a man of wide experience in the financial world. He was comptroller of the currency under President McKinley. He was appointed by General Pershing as chairman of the general purchasing board of the army in France.

General Dawes has already announced a saving of $112,612,628 in the various departments. He says that co-operation will firmly establish the budget system.

It is confidently planned to reduce expenditures to such an extent that many millions of dollars will be saved to the tax payers of the country and it is reasonable to suppose that with the machinery with which to obtain the needed information, the president will be able to submit a financial work plan, outlined in the budget, for which he will stand willing to be held responsible.

BIRD NOTES FROM NICHOLS PARK BY A BIRD LOVER

The birds at Nichols park are a constant joy to those who are interested in these cheery protectors of our life and comfort. Unafraid, because unmolested, with water unfailing, and seeds and insects in abundance, they pass the long days in their joyful labor of earning a living. Only those who can enjoy them thru the long days and nights see them in their happiest hours.

The robins are flocking together now, busy on green and lawn, a sign of the fast approaching autumn. Overhead of the black birds or purple grackles, fly in clouds to their roosts from the nearby grain fields. All thru the park the lively flickers keep up a continual "quit-u," "quit-u."

In a nearby wild cherry tree all sorts of birds are feasting on the little pungent berries. Orioles, catbirds, red-breasted gros-beaks, and the gorgeous cardinal flit in and out as their appetite dictates. In a plum tree near the drive, is a little brown jug placed there by the kindly keepers of the park. Whatever the former contents of the jug, whether "redeye," or "white-mule," those destroyers of domestic felicity, it is now inhabited by a happy little family of wrens. Here, secure from rain or storm, with the unfriendly sparrow debarred by the small entrance, they live and work and sing thru the long day.

The adjacent boxelder trees are often the feeding place of the yellow billed cuckoo, one of the shyest of birds, and seldom seen except by the devoted bird seeker. Here he is feasting on fuzzy tent caterpillars, and as he is almost the only bird who will eat them, he is doubly valuable to tree and brush life.

The telephone wires near are a convenient perch for the numerous king-birds. Here they sit and watch for insects or dart off to chase away a crow or sparrow, which are their special abhorrence. They are noisy, quarrelsome birds but because of the number of insects they eat, are to be encouraged.

A belted kingfisher sits a few moments on the top of a telephone pole, or on the railing of the little launch-pier. A flash of blue-gray wings, a splash in the water and he's back on his perch tearing and devouring the little fish he has caught and giving voice to his loud, harsh rattle of a note, which carries far on the air on a clear day.

Great excitement was felt in the bird lovers family the first day they saw the long-legged cranes fly over Mauvaisterre lake. Their wings almost three feet across, their long, narrow necks sticking out in front, they make a stately flight over the lake near the water coming to earth on the other side, where they stand in the water, with head erect, looking for all the world like a gray stick. Or sometimes they walk along the bank, with slow, measured tread, reminding one of the "Here comes the bride" march at a wedding. There are three of these birds, at least, now living in peaceful security on Lake Mauvaisterre, and the hearts of all bird lovers go out in a prayer to the park board to protect the bird life on the lake, as they do in the parks, from the guns of those who kill for fun.

Several little wild ducks have been seen on the lake in sheltered spots and are, probably the advance publicity agents of the flocks that will soon be seeking a rest and refuge on their journey to the southland.

At night falls, a different kind of bird life is seen by those who care to look and watch. The purple martins, in great numbers, swoop over the lake in their darting search for insects. Their varied warble, or twitter, is more forcible than melodious, but they are the friends of man, and love to live near his dwelling and destroy the insect pests.

Night hawks, with their forked tails and white wings and tail bands fly over the lake and land uttering their plaintive "peent, peent," cries and catching the insects as they fly.

One night the bird lover was startled by a noise nearby, like the combined chorus of a dozen Thomas cats out on orchestra practice. Investigation proved it to be a little crech-owl perched in the wild cherry tree. He was "telling the whole world" his woes and how badly he had been treated, or perhaps it was a love song to his mate. Sometimes the fancy of the female is caught by a tale of woe.

No tribute of praise is too great to render to the men who have made Nichols park and Lake Mauvaisterre a delight for generations to come!

Daily Market Report

DEALINGS FELL
BELOW AVERAGES
By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The approaching triple holiday exerted a pronounced influence over today's stock market. Dealings fell far below recent averages and consisted largely of the closing of short contracts.

rates with call loans holding at 5 1/2 per cent, and comparatively few extensions of September maturities except for the shorter maturities also figured in the irregular operations.

British and other European exchanges moved more favorably to home centers, sterling gaining almost 2 cents at its best with further strength in gliders. Improvement extended to far eastern points including China. Mexican government 4s and 5s were active and strongest of the foreign bonds. French and the new Brazilian also being in demand.
Domestic rails gained despite the heaviness of related shares and local traction made sharp recoveries with irregularities in li-beries.

Sales (par value) $10,250,000.

PRICE OF WHEAT
ADVANCED SHARPLY
By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Trading in wheat broadened considerably and with limited offerings prices advanced sharply and at the top showed as over the inside figures made early on the board of trade here today. Houses with eastern and seaboard connections were free buyers and the market's action was taken as confirming the Amer. Smelt. and Refg. 33 1/2 any increase in the outside interests would result in a sharp advance. A private crop report showing 140,000,000 bushels of all wheat for all the country ex-17,000,000 less than the government August report had considerable influence on sentiment as it indicated a surplus of under 200,000,000 bushels on the basis of normal consumption and carry over.

The close was strong with wheat 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 higher; corn up 2c to 1 1/2c and oats 1 1/2c higher.
Corn showed fair activity.
Oats were active and higher with other grains. September gained slightly on December.
Provisions were easier on scattered dealings with deliveries of

000,000 pounds of ribs on September contracts.

Veteran of Civil War Still Hale and Hearty

GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I feel twenty-five healthier and twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years stronger expresses what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut street, Springfield, Mass. "I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me. "When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up I now weigh one hundred and forty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could eat the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least. "I never miss a chance of saying a good word for Tanlac and I would like to urge the boys of the 'Sixties,' who are not feeling right to give it a trial, for I am sure it would put them in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Why Grind Cylinders?

No matter what other conditions may be, after a gas engine has been run a few thousand miles its cylinders are worn out of round; they leak oil and gasoline if this condition is not corrected.

Grinding is the only recognized mechanical means of lining up the cylinder walls to an accuracy of one thousandth of an inch.

The cost of grinding averages one-third the price of a new block. Therefore grinding is an economical as well as practical thing to do.

Regrinding is not, however, a "cure-all" for all gas engine ills. In order to reach perfection of operation it is necessary to work over all worn parts which vaires in cost with the degree of wear. This wear we are constantly urging the public to keep down to a minimum by using a clean, high grade oil in the crank case at all times.

We handle and recommend the use of MOBILOILS—"the oil that lubricates most."

HE IS LOOKING
'EM OVER AGAIN

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctors' medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

The body of Frederick W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion at the time of his accidental death at Indianapolis, Ind., in June, will not be interred in Arlington national cemetery at Washington, D. C., according to advices last week from the widow and brother of the late commander. Burial will be made at Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio, where the body was placed in a temporary vault following the largest military funeral in America since the Civil War.

With the practical closing of the harvest season, the employment office of an American Legion post at Berden, S. D., where L. W. W. is tried to cause a general "strike" among farm hands, has closed. In three weeks the legion served 1,017 free meals, found jobs for 617 men, gave 304 places to sleep, gave 373 free baths and 12 treatment by the post physician.

The city election in Birmingham, Ala., may be postponed at the request of an American Legion post of that city. The service men want to vote. When a law exempting them from poll tax was declared unconstitutional recently, the men were disqualified as voters. Thirty thousand World War veterans of the state are affected.

Evidence of the plight of unemployed service men was carried to cultured Boston, Mass., last week when Armand T. Gaudreau, University of Maine graduate, besought the American Legion employment bureau for any work that he could do. Previously Gaudreau, dressed in his collegiate cap and gown, appeared in the streets of the banking section, selling papers.

Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, and Charles R. Forbes, national director of the bureau of war risk insurance, spoke on the same platform in addressing the state convention of the American Legion of North Carolina last week.

MISS WISWELL WILL WED LOREN SACKETT

Engagement of Prominent Young Woman to Publisher of Morris, Ill., Made Known.

Miss Wiswell and Miss Marie Wiswell entertained at bridge at their home, 1329 West College avenue, in honor of Mrs. James Capps, Jr., and Miss Dorothy Stanbro, of Keokuk, Iowa, at which time Mrs. G. T. Wiswell announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Lura Vey Wiswell to Loren Brown Sackett of Morris, Ill.

A novel way announcing the event was used, when the first prize was given at the end of the playing. It was a corsage bouquet presented to Miss Carrie Mackness, with hanging streamers of tulle and ribbons bearing the initials, L. V. W., and L. B. S. The announcement came as a complete surprise.

Miss Wiswell is the daughter of Mrs. G. T. Wiswell of 1329 West College avenue, a prominent Jacksonville family. She is a graduate of the Jacksonville high school, later attending Illinois Woman's college for several years. She has also studied music at the Illinois Conservatory of Music.

Miss Wiswell has always been one of the members of the young society set in this city and her circle of friends include many people here and elsewhere.

Mr. Sackett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sackett of Morris, Ill. Mr. W. L. Sackett is superintendent of the Deep Waterways of Illinois. He is a graduate of the Morris high school and a business college in Joliet, and is editor of the Morris Herald. He is also engaged in the printing and engraving business in connection with this paper, and is one of the successful young business men of his town.

Only a limited number of friends were guests at this charming event. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. James G. Capps, Jr., of Toledo, O.; Miss Dorothy Stanbro of Keokuk, Iowa; Mrs. Helen Widenham Davis of Missouri; and Mrs. Frederick Buck of Springfield, Ill.

After the bridge delightful refreshments were served.

The parents of Merle Hay, one of the first three Americans killed in the World War, will receive no insurance because their boy died before the war risk act became operative. The American Legion of Iowa, Hay's home state, has petitioned for the parents' relief and is seeking to find any other parents whose sons "died too soon."

Michael E. Cassidy, member of the American Legion post at Bisbee, Arizona, and morale officer at Camp Cody, New Mexico, during the war, was last week appointed appropriately enough prohibition director for his arid state.
